Cost Of Union's Demands On Coal Firms Disclosed

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Oct. 13.—(AP)—John L. Lewis disclosed today that his contract demands on soft coal operators would cost 30 to 35 cents a ton more than now. He said the industry could absorb it out of profits.

Lewis, at a 75-minute news conference, went into an exhaustive outline of his theory that powerful financial and steel interests were

Communist Trial Nears End With U. S. Summation

Late Bulletin

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The government's conspiracy case against 11 top American Communist party leaders went to a Federal Court jury today at 2:53 p. m. CST. The trial began 39 weeks ago.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The prosecution charged today that the Communist party concentrated on educational work to achieve ultimate overthrow of the U. S. government by force.

U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohery voiced the charge in his summation to the federal court jury which probably will receive the case of 11 top Communists late today. The 11 are charged with conspiracy to advocate and teach the forcible overthrow of the United States government.

When the prosecutor finishes his summation, Judge Mahold R. Medina will charge the jury on the law. The trial is expected to last about four days.

McGohery told the jury that Communist teachings held that a proletarian peace could be achieved only by the smashing of the bourgeoisie state machine, and the bourgeoisie state police.

The prosecutor said Communists were made to understand that "an iron discipline existed in the party" and that the party "is governed from above by its politburo, these 11 defendants on trial."

The immediate issue is whether the 11 top Red leaders on trial are guilty of charges that they conspired to advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

But the case also has wider implications involving the future status of the Communist party in this country.

The defendants have maintained that conviction would be tantamount to outlawing the party and making illegal the activities of its other leaders and members.

If the 11 are found guilty, they face a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine each.

The historic trial, the first of its kind directed at American Communism, has been in progress for nine months.

Tense silence settled over the courtroom yesterday as McGohery, the tall, dignified, white-haired prosecutor, began his summation. He spoke in a strong, grave voice, without courtroom flourishes.

Charge Of Lunacy Filed In Houston Extortion Case

HOUSTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A former deputy sheriff accused of attempting to extort $50,000 from Oilman Glenn McCarthy was charged with lunacy today.

Raymond Chambers, 43, until yesterday a janitor at McCarthy's swank Shamrock Hotel, was taken to the city-county hospital psychopathic ward after the lunacy charge was filed with Justice of the Peace Tom Mares.

Chambers, who served four years as a Harris county deputy sheriff before becoming a Shamrock employee early this year, yesterday was released under $7,500 bond after being charged with writing the extortion note to McCarthy.

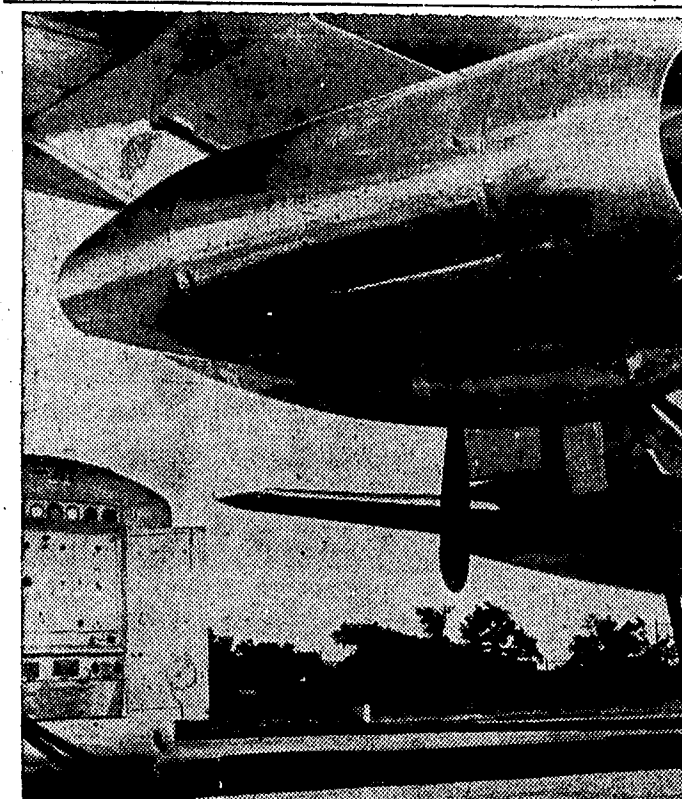

An examining trial has been set for Wednesday.

The lunacy charge was filed by Tom Shelby of the Shamrock's police force.

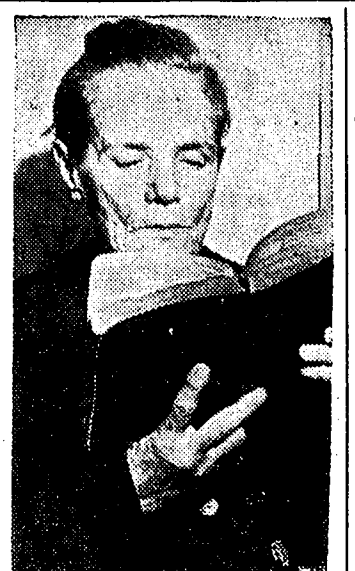

County Judge Glenn Perry appointed Dr. Abe Hauser to examine Chambers.

Dr. C. A. Dwyer, physician for Harris county, had asked that a temporary physician be appointed to make the examination. Dwyer also is director of the Shamrock's health clinic.

Dwyer said the lunacy charge was filed with his approval, but that he did not want to make the examination "for obvious reasons."

CONTROVERSIAL B-36 FITTED WITH JET ENGINES—A mechanic plugs in electric power supply to start two of the four jet engines installed on the prototype B-36 bomber at Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. plant in Fort Worth, Texas. Jet engines are to be added to all B-36s to provide additional power for take off and increased speed in the target area. High naval officers have criticized the B-36 in testimony before the House armed services committee, suggesting that Russia could shoot it down with guided rockets and that navy fighters are a match for it. 24TH ARREST — Mrs. Frances Worthington, 73 (above) wanted at Lansing, Kas., for violation of parole from the state industrial farm for women, reads her Bible in a Berkeley, Calif., jail cell after she was picked up off a train and jailed as a vagrant. Police Inspector E. F. Parker, who made the arrest, said she has been arrested 24 times since 1910 on charges ranging from shoplifting through arson and grand larceny. Mrs. Worthington told newsmen that she had gotten and spent $500,000 jail through the years. "I always did good with it," she said. (AP Wirephoto).

Ollie Prince Is Unable To Obtain Release On Bond

DALLAS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Ollie Prince's lawyers tried to get the convicted bank robber out of jail yesterday. They failed but said they'll try again.

Attorneys Clyde Hood and Howard Daily asked U. S. Commissioner W. Madden Hill to approve two sureties so Prince could go free on bond. Hill said the sureties were too low.

The lawyers said they will ask Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson to overrule Hill.

Prince, 45, of Corsicana, was convicted last March of robbing the First State Bank of Rice, Navarro county. He is appealing a 10-year prison sentence in the case.

He is under indictment in a bank robbery in Malone and another in Mount Calm. Both these cases are due for setting sometime during the second week of November in a Waco federal court.

Prince has posted $10,000 bond for the Malone case. He now must post $12,500 for the Mount Calm case and $10,000 for his appeal bond on the Rice conviction.

Cool Air Breaks Late Hot Spell In Eastern Area

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The hot spell over most of the Eastern States appeared broken today.

After several days of mid-summer temperatures, a mass of cool air from the Midwest moved into sections east of the Mississippi River to the North Atlantic coast. Rain fell along the Appalachian mountains and along the New England coast. Showers also were reported in New York City.

The cool air did not reach the South Atlantic States and generally warm weather was reported over the Southeastern part of the country.

House Refuses To Accept Flexible Price Supports

Measure Slated To Go To Conference For Compromise

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The house today refused to accept the senate's bill to set up a flexible system for farm price supports. It stood by its own measure continuing the present program of 90 percent of parity props for major crops.

However, the house agreed to negotiate with the senate on a compromise, through a house-senate conference committee. This committee may face a rugged tug-of-war between representatives of the two bodies before any agreement is reached.

After weeks of debate, a coalition of senate Democrats and Republicans yesterday pushed through on a voice vote the farm support bill sponsored by Senator Anderson (D-MN) former secretary of agriculture.

They substituted it for the one-year continuance of wartime-level price supports voted by the house in mid-July. Leaders of the coalition said they are confident the house will accept the senate version eventually.

Farm-minded house members talked equally optimistically about forcing senators to take their one-year extension of existing price props at least for 1950—a year when all 485 house members and more than one-third of the senators must face the farmers and other voters.

Both the house and house bills peg their proposed price supports to percentages of parity. Parity is a price for a farm product deemed to be fair to the farmer in relation to the cost of things he has to buy.

However, the senate bill would revise the parity formula to take into account the cost of hired hands.

Under the senate bill, the government would support major crops in 1950 at 90 percent of parity, but only if they were under production or marketing controls. After 1950, support levels could range down to 75 percent.

The house bill, support would continue through 1950 at the 90 percent of parity levels that were in effect during the war.

House leaders planned to send the dispute to a conference committee—sometimes called the third chamber of congress—to try to adjust differences.

Anticipating this, the senate has named a group of seven conferees. They will vote as a unit and five of the seven are strong supporters of the flexible support price system.

They include Anderson, floor manager of the senate bill, although only a freshman senator; Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill); Senator Aiken (R-Vt) who pushed a somewhat similar bill through the last congress; and Senators Welborn (D-La) and Thye (R-Minn).

The other senate conferees, Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) and Senator Young (R-Ind.), voted for a flat 85 percent support for basic crops but now are pledged to support the flexible price plan.

Marketing Quotas On 1950 Cotton Crop Proposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Agriculture Department today proposed rigid marketing quotas designed to cut 1950 cotton production at least 20 per cent below this year's crop.

Quotas must be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers backing the fight against Olds. They go into effect, December 15, which is the date for such an election.

Quotas were last used for cotton in 1942 when they were approved by 93.9 per cent of the growers voting.

The accumulation of a new cotton surplus from the 1948 and 1949 crops led the department to propose quotas now.

It is more than $500,000,000 invested in extra supplies turned over to it by growers under price support programs.

The quota program sets a national cotton planting allotment of 21,000,000 acres for 1950, the minimum permitted by law. This compares with 26,380,000 acres planted this year.

At the 1944-48 yield to the acre, the 21,000,000 acres would produce about 11,733,750 bales—the figure which the department set as the 1950 national marketing quota.

Such a crop would be about 24 per cent below the 15,446,000 bales produced this year.

The 1950 quota tied to the acre should turn out to be above the 1944-48 average, the quantity

Well-Known Texas District Judge Taken By Death

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 13.—(AP)—District Judge James William Ferguson, 67, of Pharr, a colorful figure in Lower Rio Grande Valley politics, died at a hospital here last night.

He had been in the San Antonio hospital for treatment of a heart ailment.

A relative of James Ferguson, former governor of Texas, he had been for many years judge of the 92nd judicial district.

Community Chest Meeting Friday To Name Officers

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Corsicana Community Chest will be held at 10 a. m. Friday in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Last year the budget was $41,500. Eleven agencies have signified an intention to come under the Chest this year.

Chinese Nationalists Flee Canton As Reds Near

CANTON, China, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The main body of the Canton Nationalist garrison fled westward to night down the main highway.

Nationalist resistance to the Communists in the entire Canton region had collapsed.

A few Nationalist soldiers were still seen on the streets about 9 p. m. but they were hurrying to join units that already had left the city. No defense preparations were evident.

Police were still on duty. No large-scale looting was reported, most of the population remaining indoors. Gunfire was heard near North Station, three miles north of the city, but its cause was not known.

All regular land, sea and air transportation out of Canton was broken off. The British steamer Wushih, the last vessel to get away tonight, left for Hong Kong with Chinese practically clinging to the ship. A few foreigners were aboard.

Telephone contact with Hong Kong was still open.

HONG KONG, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Telephone reports from Canton said Nationalist forces tonight abandoned the South China City. Plans for all organized resistance ended within the provisional capital. Entry of Communist troops is now awaited.

Earlier information from Canton said troops had pulled out of Canton, but this was coupled with reports the Nationalists had been ordered north to defend the city.

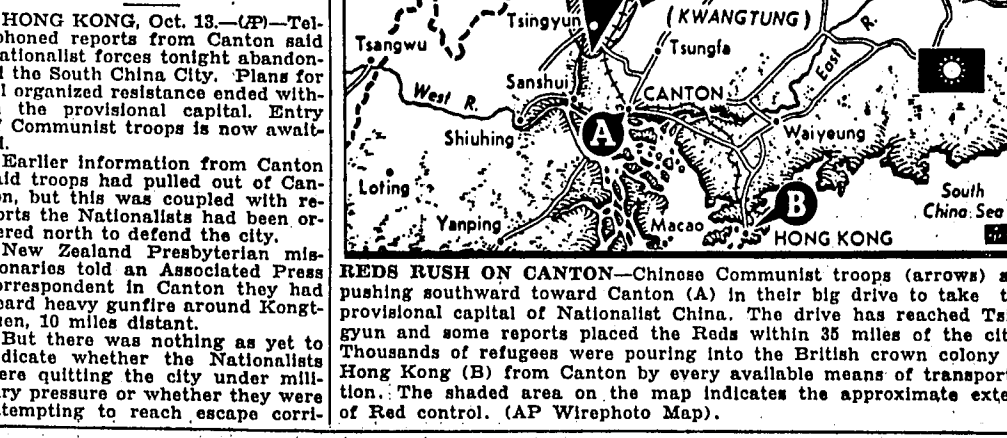

New Zealand Presbyterian missionaries told an Associated Press correspondent in Canton they had heard heavy gunfire around Kungtong, 10 miles north.

But there was nothing as yet to indicate whether the Nationalists were quitting the city under military pressure or whether they were attempting to reach escape corridors ahead of the swift moving Red troops.

Communist troops last were reported driving directly down the Canton-Hankow railroad to within 30 miles of Canton. There was no telling whether the gunfire at Kungtong was Red or Nationalist artillery or both.

As yet, Hong Kong has heard no reports of Nationalist resistance. Instead, 80,000 Government troops in the Canton region face isolation by encircling Reds and by insufficient shipping to escape to the sea.

Progress Made In Effort To Settle Strike On Mopac

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A feeling of accomplishment marked Missouri Pacific negotiations today but both sides doubted that the crippling railroad strike would end this weekend.

"We'll have to go faster than we did yesterday," observed Guy A. Thompson, Mopac spokesman.

"It's too risky to predict when we will complete this job," agreed Roy E. Davidson, spokesman for the four striking Brotherhoods.

The "job" P. D. Bailey said the man referred was settlement of the union claims that precipitated the strike Sept. 9. More than 80 of 282 cases have been disposed of since direct negotiations began Monday.

But most of the work was accomplished in the first two days and the tempo appeared to have slowed yesterday on more complicated cases.

U.S. Bomber Explodes In England; Entire Crew Of 12 Is Dead

ISLEHAM, Eng., Oct. 13.—(AP)—A U. S. Air Force B-50 bomber with a load of live bombs dived into a wheat field today and exploded with a roar heard 12 miles away. All 12 crew members were killed.

The plane, designed as the atom-bomb carrying version of the B-29, was on a 180-mile practice mission to the North Sea Island of Heligoland with twelve 600-pound bombs.

Villagers said the plane appeared to burst into flames just before it crashed through a light ground fog and struck the field.

The crash occurred at 9:25 a. m. local time (2:25 a. m. CST). Within two hours Royal Air Force rescue squadrons had recovered all 12 bodies. Names of victims were withheld pending notification of kin.

The plane, one of the newest types in the U. S. Air Force, is designed to carry conventional bombs as well as the atom bomb. The RAF threw a guard around the wreckage to protect secret equipment.

Flaming high octane gasoline from the shattered engine set fire to big stacks of wheat straw in the field. The fire spread to adjoining farm buildings. Firefighting equipment from nearby towns fought the flames.

The B-50 belonged to the 43rd bombardment group which flew here from its base in Tucson, Ariz., in August. The group now is stationed at England.

Marine Corps And Navy Aviation Said Opposed

Operations Chief Expresses Views Before Lawmakers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, the navy's top officer, said today the "view is often evident" in defense department councils that there should be no marine corps and no naval aviation.

The chief of naval operations also told the house armed services committee that there has been "improper operation" of the military unification program.

Denfeld sits in on policy making by the joint chiefs of staff as the navy's representative.

Denfeld summed up the navy's whole case in the airing of a hot row in the armed services over defense policies.

His presentation in the witness chair capped arguments from a long string of admirals and other high navy officers that present defense policies are putting too much reliance on the air force B-36 bomber and the atom bomb.

Nimitz did not mention Russia by name in a statement sent to the house armed services committee. But there was no mistaking his nation he had in mind in speaking of "a probable opponent" in event of war.

He questioned the effectiveness of the atom bomb and urged that it "not be considered as our main weapon of offense."

Just before Nimitz's statement was read, Adm. R. A. Spruance, retired head of the navy war college, had frankly spoken of Russia and warned that a war with the Soviets could not be won easily or by the atom bomb alone.

The views of the two admirals were received as the navy was winding up its case against present military policy that places heavy emphasis on the air force high-flying bomber, the B-36, designed to deliver the atom bomb.

The committee agreed to hear all rival defense ideas to the navy's next week.

The air force will then get in its reply. Secretary of Defense Johnson also will testify there.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) and Secretary Johnson held a long conference this morning. Afterwards, Vinson announced the schedule for the next phase of the Woman Is Named U. S. Ambassador To Copenhagen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Miss Jo Ann Anderson, Red Wing, Minn., has been nominated to represent the United States in Denmark as this country's first woman ambassador.

President Truman sent the name of the 40-year-old Democratic National House Committee member to the senate yesterday to succeed Joseph P. Kamp, who vacated the Copenhagen post some months ago.

At the 500-acre Minnesota farm where she and her artist-husband live, Mrs. Anderson said she is an "ardent supporter" of Mr. Truman's foreign policy and added that she was "especially happy to be nominated as ambassador to Denmark."

There have been women ministers representing the United States abroad—Mrs. Perle Mesta at Luxembourg is one; Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, was another—but no woman ever before has held the full ambassadorial rank.

One Killed, Three Hurt On Highway In Dallas County

DALLAS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Miss Jo Ann Anderson, Red Wing, Minn., was killed and three other teenagers were injured in an auto accident here early today.

The accident occurred near the Naval Air Station, west of Dallas, driven by James Douglas Lamm, 17, left the highway and overturned three times. Its passengers were thrown from it.

The injured were Jerry Hunt, 16, crushed hand; Leo Whitley, 17, bruises and lacerations; and Miss Elaine McKinney, 18, fractured pelvis.

Miss Brannon is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Brannon, two brothers and four sisters.

The fatal accident marred Dallas county's run of 36 deathless days on highways.

East Texans Ask Truman To Speed Dam Construction

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—An East Texas delegation today urged President Truman's support of an appropriation of $2,000,000 to get work started on the $48,000,000 McGee Bend dam on the Angelina river.

Rep. Pickett (D-Tex), who led the delegation to the White House, said President Truman was familiar with the project and promised to "look into it."

"He said he would discuss it with Frank Pace, the budget director," Pickett told reporters.

The Texans want funds for the project included in the budget for the year starting next July 1.

The combination flood control, power and water conservation project would serve the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange area.

In the group calling at the White House were Ed Eastman, general counsel of the Lower Neches Valley Authority; Dr. J. M. Davis of Jacksonville; Grade Stallings, city manager of Nacogdoches; Chamber of Commerce, and Victor Wain, editor of the Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Improvements Planned For Schools; Tax Notices To Be In Mails Monday

Corsicana's annexation of near-by school districts is already paying off for the newcomers, who reluctantly joined the city system. The Zion's Rest school, which for years has been without adequate heating and lighting, is to get a face-lifting.

At the regular meeting of the Corsicana school board Tuesday night it was agreed to spend $3,270 for a modern central heating plant and fluorescent lighting in all the rooms.

A survey of the Zion's Rest school was made by Doyle West, board member, who recommended the installations.

"You can't repair damage done to the eyes by inadequate lighting," said West. Dr. W. K. Logsdon added that many of his patients from the Zion's Rest area had shown signs of going without adequate heat in the building.

Plans call for four central furnaces with ducts running into the hall and rooms. Present heating is by gas stoves in the rooms.

Work on other schools was planned. Ralph Brown was authorized to do what he feels best for the board and the school system in arranging for installation of fire escapes on buildings. And a new roof is planned for the Jackson High school auditorium when more bids are received.

West also was authorized to purchase a safe and a calculating machine for the tax office.

Members present at the meeting were Brown, West, Logsdon, Mr. H. K. Stroud, Mrs. F. A. Pierce and Supt. W. H. Norwood, who announced that tax notices from the district should be in the mails by Monday.

The board formally approved the school tax rate of 1.234 on the $100 valuation.

Other matters taken up follow: Mrs. Ora Hughes was approved as sixth grade teacher at Sam Houston school for nine months at $339 monthly.

Bond of $25,000 was approved for Miss Hallie Blake, school tax collector-assessor.

A report of the board of equalization, certifying that tax rolls had been examined, were correct and approved, was accepted.

Two children were approved for free tuition.

The treasurer's annual financial report was accepted for filing.

Bills for the first month of school, amounting to $4,400.68 were approved. These claims, involving numerous items, included $705 for instructional supplies, $524.50 for heating unit at the new agricultural building, $384 for heaters at the Washington school, $118 for insurance, $269 for other repairs, $187 for filing cabinets, and many others.

The athletic report disclosed that attendance for the four football games played at Tiger stadium was 13,840—considerably higher than last year—with a gross intake of $10,787.80. Corsicana's share amounted to $3,754.46, all of which has been spent on athletics, for insurance, equipment, tickets, scouting, etc.

Supt. Norwood's financial report revealed that $65,353.86 was spent in September—the first month of school—out of the district's budget of $584,000. Payroll for teachers amounted to $47,951.62.

The superintendent also submitted a report on general and special funds, and auxiliary and student activity funds. The former's balance as of August 31, 1949 was $15,604.89; the student funds totaled $32,410.14.

Board members briefly discussed the teachers' social slated for Tuesday, Oct. 18, at the Country Club. The board will be host, inviting teachers in the Corsicana system, their wives and or husbands.

Navarro Baptist Ladies Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Navarro Baptist church met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Scott Howard, third vice president, in charge. The president, first and second vice presidents were absent.

The opening prayer was led by Mrs. Cliffe Thomason, wife of the pastor. Personal service slips and offerings were turned over to the assistant secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Katie Moore.

Mrs. Moore conducted the lesson, which was taken from the Book of St. John, Chapter 10. Each member present read a portion of the Scripture and discussions followed.

Mrs. Thomason was enrolled as a new member. Her mother, Mrs. Dill of Corsicana, was a visitor. Mrs. Thomason, who with her family is moving out to the Junior College, will conduct the Bible study next Tuesday afternoon at the church.

The benediction was by Mrs. G. C. Goodin.

Former Resident Dies At Ft. Worth

Charles H. Dawson, 42, Navarro county resident, died early Thursday morning in a Fort Worth hospital after a lengthy illness.

At one time a resident of both Dawson and Corsicana, Dawson and his parents, Mrs. Corra Dawson and the late John H. Dawson, moved to Ft. Worth several years ago.

Burial will be in Dawson, but other funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Surviving are the mother; one brother, E. Dawson; and a sister, Mrs. Irma Hightower, all of Fort Worth.

COTTON

The 21,000,000-acre planting allotment would be divided among cotton growing states and counties and then apportioned among individual growers on the basis of formulas in crop control laws.

These formulas take into account past plantings by individual farmers and recent trends in state acreages.

State and county allotments will be announced later.

A grower would be free to sell all the cotton grown on his planting allotment.

If sold, cotton grown on excess acres would be subject to a penalty tax equal to half of the June 15, 1950, parity price of cotton. At present parity prices the penalty would be almost 15 cents a pound or slightly more than half the market value.

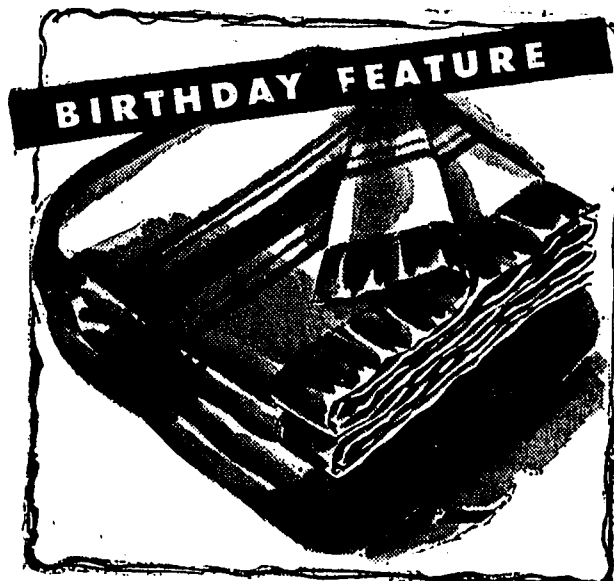

Parity is a price calculated to give farmers a "fair" return in terms of the prices of things they must buy.

Sec. Acheson Raps New Government Of East Germany

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson's blast against the "Soviet Masters" controlling eastern Germany made it plain today that the U. S. is pulling no cold-war punches because of Russia's atomic explosion.

Speaking out for the first time since President Truman made his Sept. 23 announcement of the Russian A-bomb, Acheson referred to the newly-created east German state as an "autocratic Communist regime."

At his news conference late yesterday, the secretary also brushed off protests from four eastern Communist governments, and assailed the current wave of arrests in Czechoslovakia as terrorism.

Denouncing the new east German government as "subservient" and controlled by Moscow-directed Communists, Acheson pledged continued full support from the United States, Britain and France for the west German republic which, he said, "in sharp contrast has a thoroughly constitutional and popular basis."

He noted that in the Soviet zone elections are reported postponed for a year, and declared that "the new government and its Soviet masters are obviously afraid to risk the verdict of the people of the Soviet zone."

NAVARRO COUNTY MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.—The above is a reproduction of the architect's drawing of the Navarro County Memorial Hospital. This initial sketch is subject to change to meet any construction problems that might arise. The four-story and basement 100-bed hospital will be erected on the 20.73-acre site east of the IOOF Home and between West Second avenue and Highway 22, with all-weather roads from both thoroughfares. This $1,200,000 memorial hospital will be dedicated to the war heroes of Navarro county and is being financed by a $400,000 government grant, $250,000 in public subscriptions and $550,000 bonds voted earlier in the year. W. G. Clark and Company, Fort Worth, is the architect. It is expected bids will be requested about January 1, 1950. The east-west section will be 208 feet long and 35 feet wide. The north-south section seen in the foreground will be 125 feet long on the ground and basement levels. The main entrance and offices will be located at the extreme left ground floor. Ambulance and service entrances are on the west side and are not shown in the above sketch. The view is from the northeast looking toward the southwest.

Increasing Fertility Of Land Our Responsibility, Speaker Declares

Three "stumbling blocks"—selfishness, ignorance and complacency—must be destroyed if the land's fertility is to be increased, A. Carl Spencer, Huntsville farmer, educator and technician, told the Lions Club at luncheon Tuesday.

A representative of "Friends of the Land," a group dedicated to soil conservation, Spencer declared that soil-building practices could boost Navarro county's agricultural income by $5,000,000 over a three-year period.

"Increasing the fertility of the land is a job for all of us to do. We need to think together, work together—and we'll all profit together," he declared.

Declaring that a community or nation prospers when agriculture prospers, Spencer urged that landowners—81 per cent of whom live in cities—start doing more for the soil and thereby encourage tenants to do the same.

There are 3,600 farms in Navarro county, he said, producing as average income of $4,260 that is spent in the communities. He advised businessmen that $20 in sales is lost everytime an acre of land is out of production.

Spencer was introduced by Ralph Evans, co-ordinator of the Navarro County Vocational (agriculture) school. Evans explained that businessmen, recognizing the need for conserving the soil, banded together to form the "Friends of the Land."

Spencer explained that the organization sponsors essays, connected with land management, awards prizes to youths, conducts field trips, tours and sponsors lectures on care of land.

Fifty-five members and eight guests were present. Guests were E. S. Robinson, of Dallas; Drew Gillen, Bruce McCormick, Miller Reid and Dr. Playfair, all of the newly-organized Blooming Grove Lions Club; Jerry Renov, former U. S. air forces pilot and also a former pilot in the Israel air force in Arab-Jewish war, who was a guest of Jerry Wolens; Hal Bookout, and Kenneth Douglas.

President L. B. Dawson announced that the club would meet next Tuesday instead of Thursday.

The program Tuesday, October 25, will be a movie of the Corsicana-Paris football game and featuring Coach Boyd Payne.

Bulldogs Work Hard Prepping For Tilt With Allen Academy Here Saturday

Work and plenty of it is the order of the day in Navarro Junior College football circles this week as the Bulldogs prepare for their conference opener here Saturday night against the Allen Academy Ramblers.

For a number of reasons, Coach Ken Clark and Guy A. Kridge expect this game to be one of the hardest, if not THE hardest game, of the Bulldog season.

For one, the Ramblers, in their first year under Coach Jim Moorman, have shown remarkable strength after a slow start.

For another, last year's Bulldog crew rapped the Ramblers on their home field by a 38-6 count, and revenge would be sweet to the boys of this year who were on hand for that fiasco.

For a third, this is the annual Corps Trip for the Ramblers, and it is a well-known fact that the Cadets point for the game, whoever it happens to be against.

About 400 Cadets of the corps will arrive in Corsicana at 6 p. m. Saturday via Southern Pacific railroad, and will march to Tiger Field led by police escort and band. The route of march will be down Beaton to Collin, out Collin to the high school, and thence to the high school, and field.

The Rambler backfield is led by Wingback Albert Brack of Marlin. He has handled the majority of the passing duties in the aerial-minded team's offense. Lucky Parks, ex-Linn high school lad, is a 165-pounder quite well, and he runs and passes to perfection.

Standouts in the Rambler line are Jack Barbee, 210 pound guard; Jack Bried, 190 pound end; Earley Soran, 215 pound end; and George Clements, 200 pound center.

Coach Clark reported Wednesday that there were no serious injuries in the Bulldog roster. For all practical purposes, the locals will be at top strength for the contest.

Elly Hopson and Red Earl, who have carried the brunt of the ball carrying, are ready to go, and Wilbur Guthrie and Danny McLeod are looking good on backfield blocking assignments.

Vinson said that beginning next week the committee will hear Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gen. Omar Bradley, Secretary of Air E. A. Tamm and Air Force officers. Then, he added, "Secretary Johnson will give the committee and the country his views."

Johnson, as civilian boss of all the armed services, is caught squarely in the cross-fire of the angry controversy over military policy.

He also has come in for harsh words from some congress members because, by executive order, he has cut back appropriations that the lawmakers made for the navy.

Vinson publicly accused Johnson yesterday of making "a grandstand play" by economizing on navy funds. He said the committee "is to have a lot to say about this."

Rep. Bates (R-Mass), a committee member, expressed hope that the hearings into defense policy will cause the junking of Johnson's bitterly-disputed decision to halt construction on a navy super-carrier.

These storm warnings were raised on Capitol Hill, the navy arrayed the last of its top brass before the committee (9 a. m. CST) to wind up its case against what it terms an "unbalanced" defense policy too heavily weighted in favor of strategic bombing and the B-36.

Topping the navy witness list were Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, war-time Pacific Commander in Chief; Adm. R. A. Spruance, Pacific task force commander; Adm. Louis B. Denfeld, chief of naval operations; and Adm. Louis de Florez, top navy research officer.

First, however, Vinson ordered Vice Adm. Robert B. Carney to tell the committee who signed the Pentagon order that directed an $800,000,000 slash in defense appropriations for the fiscal year ending next June 30—before Congress had even approved them.

Carney is a deputy chief of naval operations, and also chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff budget advisory committee.

The appropriation in which the cuts were made is still awaiting a house- Senate decision over the size of the air force.

Apparently, Vinson declared, Johnson decided, "without any notice to the committee" that the armed services needed less than they said they needed.

Vinson has promised Johnson, as well as members of the joint chiefs of staff, a hearing before the committee. Most committee members expect it to be a warm session.

But it may be a week or so before Johnson gets his say. The committee hoped to conclude the naval phase of its defense study today. Thereafter it will take a short recess before hearing from officials of the defense department and the other services.

STRIKERS SWARM IN FOR PAY CHECKS—Striking CIO Steelworkers of the Carnegie Illinois Steel Corp., Chicago, push up to doors of Masonic Temple on Chicago's south side to receive pay checks for two weeks preceding the current strike. The temple was converted into a paymaster's office by the steel company, which says two days will be needed to hand out all the checks. Meanwhile in Pittsburgh, U. S. conciliator director Cyrus Ching said he is arranging meetings with leading steel companies and striking steelworkers. (AP Wirephoto).

pressed sympathy for the pension fight of the 500,000 striking CIO steelworkers. Lewis' own miners have been on strike since Sept. 19.

The steel and coal strikes commanded top attention of federal mediators today as both disputes neared the critical stage.

The government's conciliation director, Cyrus S. Ching, hopes to get leaders of the CIO-United Steelworkers union and industry officials back at the bargaining table.

Ching planned to meet today with representatives of the Bethlehem Steel Company in New York. He also planned sessions with other major steel producing companies and hopes to meet later with Philip Murray, CIO-USW president.

The two strikes have made idle nearly 900,000 workers and continuation of the work stoppages threatens to idle additional thousands.

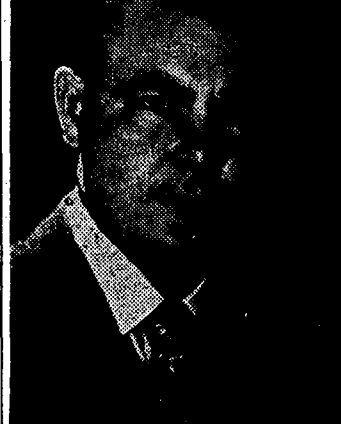

The biggest threat appears to be the fabricating steel industry—the plants that use steel for hundreds of articles. Some 500,000 USW workers are employed in the fabricating plants and Murray wants free pensions and insurance for them as well as for the 454,000 men on strike.

Their contracts begin expiring Saturday. About a dozen firms, which employ a few thousand workers, have signed new contracts with the union, agreeing to pay the 10-cent hourly package recommended by the presidential fact-finding board.

Murray, in a radio speech last night, urged the public to support the steel strike because "our cause is just and righteous." He said the steel workers "cannot and will not permit any wage cut, whether by the false principles of contributory pensions and insurance or otherwise." The big steel companies have said they will pay toward a pension insurance program—but only if the workers also contribute.

Gunfire was reported in the coal strike at Al-Hariman, Tenn., police Chief E. E. Patterson said a band of armed men shot down the tires of a coal-laden truck from a non-union mine near London, Ky., last night. The armed forces of the state moved to the scene of the attack, Patterson said.

CARD OF THANKS
We want to express our thanks and appreciation for the kindness and sympathy shown to us by our friends and neighbors during the illness and death of our husband and father, also for the flowers and dinner served.
Mrs. C. E. Hosier and daughter, Halle.

To The People Of Navarro County

I wish to announce my candidacy for Representative of the 58th District of Texas and would like to submit to you my qualifications.

I am 23 years old, married, and a veteran of World War I. I graduated from Barry High School and Navarro Junior College, attended Baylor Law School for one year and am now working my way through Law School in Houston.

My platform consists first of no further taxes on the PEOPLE of Texas. The alarming increase of taxes in the last twenty years certainly justifies this. I believe in farm-to-market roads which are essential to the progress of our county. I believe the provisions of the Old Age Assistance Act should be relaxed so as to enable the people who have paid taxes all their life to at least be secure in their old age.

With these issues before me and with this thought uppermost in my mind—the preservation of our Democratic form of Government—I submit to you, in this special election November 8th, my candidacy for Representative of the 58th District.

Your vote and influence will be appreciated.
Respectfully yours,
Billy H. Ragan

Officers Of Two States Seeking Suspected Killer

AMARILLO, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Texas and New Mexico officers searched today for a man they believe lured a friend on a World Series trip and killed him, leaving the body alongside an Illinois road.

Alfred E. Clark, 23, of Boise City, Okla., was found dead yesterday beside a country road three and a half miles south of Jerseyville, Ill.

He had been shot through the head and robbed.

It was learned in Clayton, N. M., where Clark worked in a restaurant, that the suspect told him he had World Series tickets and would share them and pay the expenses.

Clark would drive his new car, Clark agreed, and they left Oct. 3. Officers began looking for Clark last Saturday after a Dalhart, Tex., girl reported the suspect had kidnapped her and pistol-whipped and robbed her date.

The girl said papers in the car driven by the man identified it as Clark's.

The girl said she had known the suspect in Clayton and in Montana.

George French, a farmer, discovered Clark's body yesterday, nearly running into it with a plow. Coronator Rodney Jacoby estimated Clark had been dead about a week.

Clark had mailed postcards to his parents as late as a week ago.

Juanita Groves, 19, of Dalhart reported Saturday that she was with Clark about two miles west of Dumas, Tex., Friday night when the suspect drove alongside their car and fired into it. She told Sheriff J. A. McMurry of Dumas the man ordered them out, beat Benson with his pistol and took his billfold. Then, the girl said, the suspect forced her into the car with him.

She said he drove to Vega, about 45 miles west of Dumas. There, the girl said, she knocked out the suspect with a fire extinguisher after they stopped at a tourist court.

She went to Vega officers, who accompanied her to the tourist court, they arrived, the suspect drove away, heading west. The officers did not pursue.

The girl said they told her that if she wanted to charge him with kidnapping, she would have to go back to Dumas.

She arrived back in Dumas about 6 a. m. Saturday and made her report to Sheriff McMurry.

No charges against the man had been filed last night. Statewide pickup orders were broadcast in Texas and in New Mexico.

Betty Story Griffin Who Died September 30, 1949.

God's called her away, why, we do not know. All of us will miss her, but God knew she must go.

There's a better home in heaven, up there in the sky; She didn't seem to dread it, her courage was high.

I'm sure she would say, I'll be all right. Take care of Eddie by day and by night. The pain is now gone, and forever she'll rest—

Why question God? He knows best. Her baby needs her; so do we all—But we know she must go when God sends his call.

The sun it will shine and rain it will fall, We'll wonder, and wonder, but her, not at all.

Forever in peace among the flowers she'll lay Until the heavens open on that Judgment Day.

Last night friends of McCarthy told how the oilman took a gun and tried to contact the writer of the extortion note.

McCarthy's associates said the letter threatened death or injury to the oilman or a member of his family if he didn't deliver the money as directed. It was to be placed Oct. 1 in a culvert at a Houston intersection.

After thinking it over, McCarthy decided to ignore an FBI request and answer with a return note. He wrote a note saying it would be impossible for him to rise the money in small bills on such short notice. He asked the letter writer to contact him again.

Then, armed with a pistol, McCarthy drove to the intersection.

Curious residents of the section crowded around his Cadillac when he stopped. McCarthy told them he had engine trouble. While they looked under the hood, he tossed the note into the culvert.

FBI agents kept a constant watch over the culvert, but no one ever picked up the note.

After pleading innocent at his arraignment, Chambers told reporters he was going back to work. When he got to the Shamrock, he found he had been fired.

Chambers was arrested early yesterday as he left the night shift at the hotel.

New Look For Men Is Revealed At Display In Paris.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Plunging purple necktie and all—the new look for men has been unveiled in Paris.

It's all because Tailor Gaston Walter believes man today is in a state of "vestimentary inferiority." Walter yesterday showed an audience of 500 what he would do about it.

Four young men from the Conservatory of Dramatic Arts—there were no male fashion models to be had—turned and walked about to show 18 such confidence-boosting ensembles as:

A black ski outfit, with red paley scarf and green-lined boots; Finger-length coats; Alligator skin shoes with inch-high crepe soles;

A purplish prune-color dinner jacket with "plunging neckline"—plunging to the middle of the stomach.

An equally prune-hued taltcoat, with opera cape of lighter purple sporting an elaborate antique silver chain clasp.

A sample comment came from a British reporter (who wore a poison green tweed jacket, non-matching slacks, grey pullover and red and blue necktie hanging outside):

"If I'd known what was coming up, I'd have worn my dungarees."

There was no immediate indication of cause of the crash. Air Force headquarters said weather in the area was foggy, with visibility of about an eighth of a mile.

The British massed troops near the border separating British Kowloon territory and China proper, but they did not expect trouble.

The Nationalist government fled to Chungking. Acting President Li Tsung-Jen left by plane for Kweilin in neighboring Kiangsi province where an army of some 250,000 has been salvaged out of recent setbacks.

Li has been feuding with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, and there was speculation that he might not go to the new refugee capital.

Over 30,000 Hong Kong garrison troops faced the Chinese border. Backed by artillery, tanks and fighter planes, they were massed along 14 miles of Kowloon frontier. Within this city, which has 2,000,000 Chinese inhabitants, police held anti-rioting exercises.

No trouble with the Red troops was anticipated.

While concerned Hong Kong officials was that Nationalists might flee along the Canton-Kowloon railway and pour over the border into Kowloon on the mainland adjacent to Hong Kong island. These strategists then would have to be disarmed.

The well equipped ground forces also have the protection of naval units. The aircraft carrier, Triumph, cruisers Belfast and Jamaica are based here as well as a number of destroyers and frigates.

Hope for Canton is gone. Martial law was declared on to prevent rioting and looting.

Grim, dingy Chungking, 800 miles northwest, was officially proclaimed the new capital, effective Saturday. All important government officials still in Canton, including Premier Yen Shi-Shan, planned to leave by plane during the day.

Direct word from the city described the population of nearly a million as tense and expecting the Reds in three to 10 days.

Man Convicted Of Killing In Jail Of Scurry County

SWEETWATER, Tex., Oct. 13.—Henry W. Strickland, 20, of Jackson, Miss., was found guilty last night of murder in a jail killing and given a five-year sentence. Strickland was accused of beating Robert C. Sperry, 47, to death while they were in the Scurry county jail at Snyder last June 27. Before resting, the defense introduced Dr. C. R. Cockrell and Dr. H. E. Ross of Snyder to testify an autopsy showed Sperry was suffering from a serious heart disease and that a brain hemorrhage alone was not enough to cause death. On cross examination, they admitted a blow on the head could have hastened death. Earlier Dr. L. R. Hersberger of San Angelo testified an autopsy showed Sperry's death was due to heart trouble and blows on the head. He testified that without the heart disease Sperry would have died of wounds within three days. Goes to Houston. Dr. Jared I. Cartledge, pastor of the First Baptist church, Wednesday went to Houston for a stay until late next week. Dr. Cartledge became ill Oct. 3, and returned home from the hospital Monday. He was accompanied to Houston by Mrs. Cartledge.

THE NATION TODAY

By HAROLD W. WARD (For James Marlow.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Each day that the steel strike continues adds to the pressures gathering around CIO President Philip Murray.
Each day brings the CIO convention nearer, with crucial decisions for Murray to make concerning the future of the 14-year-old Congress of Industrial Organizations, which he helped to build and has led since 1940.
If the steel strike should still be in effect when the convention opens Oct. 31, it will make difficult Murray's job of holding his forces in line.
Left wing unions, spearheaded by the leaders of the United Electrical Workers, already are snapping at Murray's heels. They rebuke him for agreeing to drop his demand for a fourth round post-war wage increase as recommended by the steel fact-finding board.
Keeping discipline in the ranks of both the steelworkers and the CIO will be one of Murray's hardest tasks at the convention if the strike is still on. His fight for free pensions and insurance with steel employees is only half his battle.
It will become increasingly hard to keep in line the half million CIO-Steelworkers who walked out Oct. 1 and the other half million poised to join in the strike as contracts of the fabricating companies expire in approaching weeks.

But a settlement of the steel strike would bring a flush of achievement to Murray. It would be a big help if he could get it before the convention opens.
It would be a still bigger lift if he could sign up with the steel industry before the CIO vice presidents and executive board meet in Cleveland starting Oct. 24. That's when the real behind-the-scenes fight with the left-wing rebels will take place.
Lewis is another harrasing influence for Murray. Some government experts think Lewis might reach an agreement ending the coal strike at a time when it would be most embarrassing to Murray—his one-time lieutenant but present-day rival. That might be during the CIO convention.

WASHINGTON LETTER.. by Jane Eads

ABRAHAM LINCOLN plans are under way for an imposing memorial here to Mohandas K. Gandhi, Indian Nationalist and religious leader, who was assassinated in January, 1948. Congress has approved a resolution authorizing the memorial, and a newly-formed Gandhi Memorial Foundation will be responsible for its erection and maintenance.
The site will be designed by the U. S. Fine Arts Commission, which passes upon location and types of such projects in Washington.
Sirdar J. J. Singh of New York, president of the India League of America, announced the formation of the Foundation. It will soon launch a public appeal for funds for the memorial all over the United States. The Foundation hopes to raise $10,000,000 for the structure.
Within six months the Foundation expects to announce prizes for the best design for the memorial and for landscaping the grounds. The Foundation, according to Mr. Singh, hopes to begin work within a year and to finish within three years.
The memorial will have an auditorium seating 500 people. It will also have galleries where famous art of India will be exhibited and a library of works on and by Gandhi. The India League of America, founded 10 years ago with headquarters in New York, has some 1200 members, mostly Americans representing 40 of the 48 states. One of its main objectives is to foster better relations and friendly understanding between the peoples of India and of this country.

"Passage by the U. S. Congress of the resolution authorizing erection of the memorial already has created a tremendous flow of good will in India toward the people of the United States. Mr. Singh told me. "The action made front page news everywhere in India."
Congressman Celler (D-N.Y.), who introduced the resolution in the House, says, "The bill symbolizes the closeness of cultural and spiritual relations between India and the United States and should, therefore, even greater unity between the two great nations."
"The ways of Gandhi are the ways of the universe. Gandhi did not live for India alone. He set a pattern of life for peoples everywhere to follow. It is well that we in the United States offer this tribute of respect to his memory and hereby show our admiration for the great commonwealth of India."

Brownwood Group To Appeal For Flood Control

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A delegation of Brownwood, Tex., citizens tomorrow will urge the army engineers' board for rivers and harbors improvements to approve a flood control-water conservation project for their area.
Arriving here during the past two days by automobile, plane and train, members of the group have conferred with Rep. Fisher (D-Tex.).
Specifically under consideration will be an army division engineer's report which recommends authorization of some improvements the Brownwood people want but asserts that some other requested works are "economically unjustified" now.

Recommended by the district and division engineers is a proposed $9,035,000 earth dam which would be constructed just downstream from the present Lake Brownwood.
The annual maintenance cost of the dam is placed at $48,000, of which approximately $3,000 would be furnished by local interests.
The Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1, which owns and operates Lake Brownwood, would have free and exclusive use of conservation storage in the new reservoir below an elevation of 1,425 feet above sea level. The capacity above that figure would be set aside by army engineers for flood control purposes.

Financial Report On Athletics Is Made By School

Receipts for the four non-conference games played by the ram-paging Corsicana Tigers this year here total $10,767.80, but the part to the local school amounts to only $3,754.42 according to a financial statement issued by the board of education at its regular meeting Tuesday evening.

There is little variance in the attendance figures—the Greenville contest was tops with 3593 paid customers and the Paris battle the following week—during the Fair—was low with 3382, a reduction of only 231 customers from the high and low.

The North Dallas contest attracted 3453 while the Center-Riverside (Fort Worth) melee last week end saw 3402.

This gives a total of 13,840 paid admissions for the four practice games played at Tiger Field, an average of 3460.

Other interesting items in the financial report include:

Federal tax, $1,816.82; officials, $551.90; game expenses, $190.10; visitors' part including traveling guarantees, $1,454.50.

Major bills paid in addition to the officials' and federal taxes, include:

Athletic insurance, $400; scouting, $158.55; first aid supplies, $230.40; laundry, $34.10; athletic equipment, $7,208.04; printing tickets, $132.45; baseball transportation last spring, $142.65. The athletic equipment bills included $598.98 for baseball equipment used last year and carried over and $1,078.61 for junior high school football equipment received this year. All equipment so far received this year has been paid for, according to the statement.

Polio Victim
BONHAM, Tex., Oct. 13—(P)—Bonham's fifth polio victim of the year is Ray Rice, 15. He was taken to a Dallas hospital yesterday.

Demo Dinner
NEW YORK, Oct. 13—(P)—Texas Democrats already have made reservations for a $100-a-plate dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Dec. 2 to raise $250,000 for the party.

Speakers for the dinner are Vice President Alvin W. Barkley and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn.

GOVERNOR ENDORSES SEARS SOUTHERN INDUSTRIALIZATION SALE NOW GOING ON--9 BIG DAYS

Governor
Allan Shivers.

Manager
Tom Sawyer.

Merchandise purchased last year from Texas manufacturers by Sears, Roebuck and Co. amounted to $27,723,000.00, it was revealed here today by W. E. Sawyer, manager of the Sears store at Corsicana.

A total of 990 different Texas manufacturing firms located in 89 cities shared in this expenditure, he said. Many of the products purchased in this state were distributed nationally through Sears outlets.

According to Mr. Sawyer, these figures showing the extent to which Sears turns to industry in Texas were prepared in connection with the company's forthcoming Southern Industrialization Sale. This event will be held October 13 through October 22.

Sears purchases in Texas would assume even greater significance if they could be reflected in terms of jobs and man-hours at the factory level, he stated.

In addition to the purchases made directly by Sears from manufacturers in this state, Sears suppliers in all sections of the country bought large quantities of raw materials in Texas. This figure, according to rough estimates, reaches huge proportions.

"We are happy to report to local residents that Sears is continuing to utilize more manufacturing sources in this state," Mr. Sawyer said.

"Locating our sources of supply as close to our outlets as possible is an important means of cutting distributing costs."

Prophet Of Remote Centuries Calls For Good Government

Member Of Ruling Class Became Champion
Of the Underprivileged—Isaiah Held To Moral Basis Of Government—Wealth Of A
Nation The Character Of Its People

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS
and EARL L. DOUGLASS.

Some years ago, a distinguished British statesman, the Marquess of Salisbury, crossed the House of Lords and said along with much else to the same effect: "The cause of the world's state is not economic; the cause is moral. What we want are God-guided personalities, which make God-guided nationalities, to make a new world. All other ideas of economic adjustment are too small really to touch the center of the evil."

President Roosevelt, in a radio address, had voiced the same conviction: "No greater thing could come to our land today than a revival of a spirit of religion—a revival that would sweep through the hearts of men and stir the belief in God and their dedication to His will for themselves and for their world. I doubt if there is any problem—social, political, or economic—that would not melt away before the fire of such a spiritual awakening."

Basic Problems Theological. The necessity for moral soundness in all human relationships is a truth not always recognized but one which never loses its significance with the passing of time. Isaiah, the great Hebrew prophet who lived more than 2700 years ago, never tired of calling the attention of his contemporaries to this basic fact. And because he did it so effectively and with such spiritual passion, his words have echoed down across the centuries to guide our policies and add power to our moral purpose.

Isaiah was a man of distinguished birth, perhaps a member of the royal family. Kings and rulers did not want to listen to him because he heeded to a moral line which has never been popular among politicians and kindred timeservers. Isaiah believed that it is God's will, and such holding the case men cannot flout God's laws in their management of world affairs.

In the first chapter of the book which bears his name, he denounces Jerusalem as an unfaithful city, full of political and moral corruption, ripe for the judgment of God. The Mighty One has a program of reform and it is a grain of salt. He will ease the U. S. in the Congo region of Africa, will speak at the Patten Memorial Presbyterian church at Eureka, Sunday at 11 a. m. Dr. Whorton, formerly served the First Presbyterian church at Sherman, and the University Presbyterian church, Austin. He is also scheduled to speak at the First Presbyterian church, Streetman, at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Sound Civic Morals. The indictment Isaiah makes against Jerusalem sounds strikingly like similar indictments—some made by journalists and others by judges—of modern-day Jerusalem. We insist on believing that our modern civic ailments are economic and political in their nature. When will we learn that there is a mistake? We live in a universe which is primarily spiritual in its nature, and our problems, therefore, are for the most part spiritual problems. Cities of righteousness, faithful towns? We can have them all over this broad land of ours, if we will meet the spiritual requirements of good government. We can be sure that what we need to supplant our chaos and self-interest are integrity and good will.

A Religious Diplomat. It is also important for us in these days of international negotiations to remember that Isaiah was an internationalist, and that he held to his internationalism without in the least doing violence to his profound loyalty to his native land. He was a good citizen of his country, and he was a good citizen of the world. In a day when a jealous and hostile nationalism was almost universal, Isaiah dared to prophesy that Judah's erstwhile enemies would in time become her allies. But he was insistent that spiritual unity had to come before political. He was certain that when men were united in spiritual purpose, they could easily be brought together on political procedure.

Situations such as the one in which Isaiah stood, bring home to us the realization that the Bible continues to be the most modern of books in every age. It deals with eternal truth, and because it does, men of every age can open it and read the guidance they need amid life's complex events. Does this mean that diplomats, law-makers, prime ministers, and presidents should take the Bible as a guide, just as preachers attempt to do? It means just that. The world's greatest statesmen have been men who had a deep appreciation of the spiritual nature of political and international matters. The United Nations cannot succeed without it cleaves to a certain line—a party line, if you wish—and that line the unwavering spiritual principles set forth in the revealed Word of God. There is no other road along which tired, badgered, war-worn humanity can travel save the spiritual road. Only one road leads to deliverance; and that road runs over the hill on which stood three crosses. The spiritual conception of life, culminating in the cross of Christ, can alone deliver the world from death.

Seven Sentences Sermons. In the field of destiny we reap as we have sown.—Drummond.

Build friendships, not wars for national defense.—Anon.

Ah, how skillful grows the hand That obeyeth love's command: It is the heart, and not the brain, That to the highest doth attain.—Longfellow.

Determine that the thing can and shall be done, and then we shall find the way.—Lincoln.

Turn ye unto him from whom the children of Israel have deeply revolted.—Isaiah 31:6.

For right is right, since God is God. And right the day must win; To doubt would be disloyalty, To falter would be sin.—Feber.

We will have no permanent recovery in this country, no matter what laws are passed, until we experience from coast to coast a sweeping religious revival.—Freeman.

The Sunday school Lesson for October 16 is "God and the Nations." Isaiah 1:21-28; 19:19-25.

Missionary To Speak Sunday

Conway F. Whorton, D. D., missionary of the Presbyterian church, U. S., in the Congo region of Africa, will speak at the Patten Memorial Presbyterian church at Eureka, Sunday at 11 a. m. Dr. Whorton, formerly served the First Presbyterian church at Sherman, and the University Presbyterian church, Austin. He is also scheduled to speak at the First Presbyterian church, Streetman, at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Grandparents Told Grandson Is Born

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Anderson have received cablegrams from Africa and from the Southern Baptist foreign mission board informing them of the birth of their grandson, Dean Graham Adams, Thursday, Oct. 6, at the Baptist hospital, Eku, Nigeria. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Heyward Adams, who are well known here.

Cablegrams announcing his birth were received Saturday with the word that both mother and baby are doing well. The grandparents do not expect to see their first grandson until early in 1952, when the young missionaries will have fulfilled their three-year term of service in Nigeria.

The Rev. and Mrs. Adams left Corsicana Oct. 1, 1948, to proceed to the east coast where they sailed for their assignment. They landed in Nigeria Dec. 17 of that year. They are serving in Benin City.

The other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Adams of Savannah, Ga. A copy of the Corsicana Daily Sun, bearing this announcement, was to leave immediately for Nigeria, to be included with Christmas gifts, necessarily mailed this week to reach Nigeria by the holiday season.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

But Curly "Knows" What The Score Is!

Was over at Doc Sherman's drug store listening to the World Series on the radio. Curly Lawson wanders in and says: "How about a chocolate malted, Doc?"
"Sorry, Curly," says Doc, "can't make you a malted for a while yet." "What's the idea?" Curly asks. "Well," says Doc, "most of the folks want to hear the game and the mixer makes too much noise." Curly thinks a moment and says, "Okay with me, Doc—I'll take a chocolate soda!"
This shows how tolerant folks can be. Doc showed his respect for how the majority felt; Curly was big enough not to insist on his malted even though he doesn't happen to be fond of baseball.

From where I sit, willingness to respect the other people's feelings is important in a Democracy. If we're tolerant of a person's like for baseball or a glass of temperate beer, we've come a long way on the right road... the road to a better America, that is!

Hundreds Of Fans Plan To Witness Go At Hillsboro

Corsicana football fans by the hundreds will witness the undefeated Corsicana Tigers tangle with Hillsboro's Eagles on Friday night, a check of various officials revealed today.

The Tiger-Eagle clash is a crucial game for both teams. For the Tigers it is the first district outing, and they are anxious to get off to a good start in conference competition.

For the Eagles, it could be a parting of the ways. A loss to the Tigers would make it two conference setbacks in a row for them, and it would virtually eliminate the Hillsboroans from the district race.

Local bus companies indicate that there have been many requests for passage on chartered buses, and have indicated that they will comply. One bus company has reported a private bus chartered as far ahead as the Waco game.

Corsicana high school students will fill one or possibly two chartered buses for the trip to Hillsboro.

Interest in the game is running high at the high school, where a special assembly and football rally will be held Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Tickets have been on sale in downtown stores since Tuesday, and they are reported going fast. A block of 1,500 adult tickets and 800 student tickets were sent to Corsicana early this week for the program sale.

The tickets will be withdrawn Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, if any remain unsold, Principal R. A. Armistead said.

Armistead also reported that in a

Outstanding Religious Leader Will Appear At First Methodist Sunday

Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will speak at the First Methodist Church here Sunday morning, Dr. Erwin F. Bohmfalk, pastor, announced Thursday.

Dr. Clinchy has headed the national conference since its founding 21 years ago by Charles Evans Hughes, Newton D. Baker and Dr. S. Parks Cadman. For the past three years he also has been president of the World Council of Christians and Jews.

"The service Sunday morning at 10:30 is open to all the citizens of Corsicana," Dr. Bohmfalk said. Visiting guests will include Dr. Joseph N. Shapiro, rabbi of Agudas Achaim, Corsicana.

The speaker, who appears under the auspices of the southwestern division of the National Conference, is also visiting and speaking in seven other southwestern cities, including Dallas, Tulsa, Wichita, Kan., Oklahoma City, San Antonio, Houston and Beaumont.

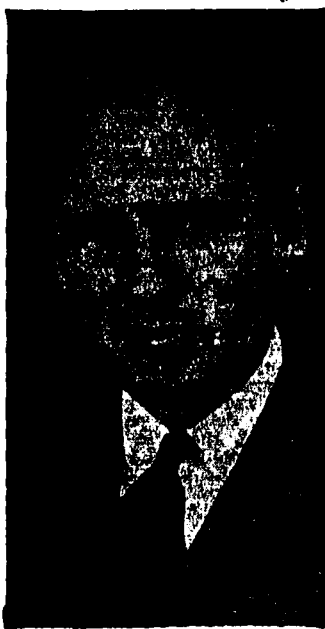

Hastings Harrison, a former citizen of Corsicana, and national vice president of the conference, is in charge of the appearances.

Under Dr. Clinchy's leadership, the conference has grown from a tiny office and a small budget to 80 offices throughout the nation, with 200 full-time employees and an annual budget of $2,000,000, Dr. Bohmfalk said.

An author, Dr. Clinchy since 1945 has directed the Williamstown Institute of Human Relations. His telephone conversation with Hillsboro school officials this week, it was announced that Corsicana and Hillsboro's bands will sit in the new section of bleachers, and that the new seats will be available to Corsicana fans as well as Hillsboro fans. There is no particular side of the field for each contingent.

Saturday night, Navarro Junior College opens its conference schedule on Tiger Field against the Al-Jen Academy Ramblers of Bryan. The Cadets have chosen this Church Group At Wortham Meets

WORTHAM, Tex., Oct. 12.—(Sp)—Mrs. T. B. Poindexter was hostess for the Central Presbyterian Auxiliary on Monday at her home.

Mrs. Gussie Weaver presided over the opening session, received reports and expressed appreciation of the membership attendance and welcomed a guest, Mrs. Minnie Stubbs Hatch, of Bennettsville, S. C. Mrs. Hatch later spoke of some interesting work of her auxiliary.

Mrs. H. C. Meador, as leader of program, prefaced her topic with devotional, the theme of which was "The Door to the Human Heart." Mrs. D. R. Wimberly, and Mrs. J. T. Drumwright assisting. Mrs. Wimberly spoke on "A Future and a Hope," which was a moving plea to save German Protestants that came from a past-evangelist of Presbytery of New York—and a refugee pastor from Germany. Mrs. Drumwright used as her subject, "All in a Day's Work" that told of the hospital in Malindi, India. In conclusion Mrs. Meador gave extracts of a talk by Mrs. John M. Irvine, president of National Council of Women Organizations of America, when she spoke in Waxahatchie recently "Behind the Iron Curtain," based on her extended visit in Europe. During social hour, refreshment plates were served, and the visit "up stairs" with Mrs. Easterling, Mrs. Poindexter's mother, who so graciously receives and welcomes her guests at all times, although a cheerful "shut-in" for four years.

Adjournment Hope Of Congress Believed Dead

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Congressional hopes of adjourning this Saturday apparently have gone aglimmering. Nobody could be found today who would venture a guess as to when the session that began last January finally will end.

QUESTION OF SAFETY

Voicing the threat of a general railroad strike to force demands of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers for additional crewmen on Diesel locomotives, David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood, said, that an issue of safety for passengers and freight is involved. If his statement is accurate the issue is one to be investigated by the Interstate Commerce Commission rather than by labor relations mediators. The safety of rail transportation is too important to everybody to be mixed up in a labor dispute. A Diesel locomotive, like a steam locomotive, normally is manned by a crew of two, both of whom remain in the cab at all times when the locomotive is moving. The Brotherhood has been demanding that an assistant fireman be added to the crew, to ride in the engine compartment and tend the Diesel engines. Robertson is quoted as saying: "At the present time no one looks after the motor and if something goes wrong during a trip, the trip is either delayed or there is an accident." The possibility of delays suggested by this statement is one thing. But the possibility of accidents is quite another thing. If the Brotherhood can see a possible chain of incidents, stemming from lack of an engine attendant, which might cause an accident, its information should be presented at once to the Interstate Commerce Commission for study by safety experts. If it knows of any accidents which might have been prevented by an engine attendant, the facts should be stated. Railroad safety is a vital public concern, and the business of the Commission.

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION

A proposed world treaty for guaranteeing freedom of information apparently will not be brought before the present session of the United Nations General Assembly for final action. There has been much controversy about the treaty, the aim of which is to establish uniform standards for government regulation of news agencies of all kinds. It is supposed to be in the interest of free speech, but some critics have declared that the proposed document is so complicated and all-encompassing that it might create world-wide censorship instead of freedom. The spreading of any freedom of information, about all any nation needs to do is allow people and the press to say what they please. This would seem a horrified idea to government accustomed to strict censorship, but even in such nations a responsible press would quickly develop if free to do so. What it would then have to say would assure freedom of information.

LOST VOTE

New evidence of the effects of the breach between Russia and Yugoslavia has been found at the current session of the United Nations General Assembly at Flushing, N. Y. Heretofore Russia and five obedient satellite nations have voted together on any and all issues. This time the Russian bloc cast only five sure votes, instead of six, in the balloting for election of officers and committee chairmen. While the vote was secret, it did not take the wisdom of Solomon to locate the defection from the Soviet bloc. If there appears to be a profitable chance to get

MALE KNITTERS

(Many well-known men are knitting their own Argyle socks.—Fashion note, by Laurena Pringle)
'Tis strange a woman would admit
That men have skill enough to knit;
That some of them have mastered that
Deft art of purling while they chat
And shaping woolen diamonds blue
As well as lady fingers do;
That males who need new socks
Are known
To sit them down and knit their own.
Among the knitting males are found
The names of gentlemen renowned.
The list includes a former king,
Dramatic stars and men who sing.
'Tis told these most amazing chaps,
With balls of wool upon their laps,
As does my Janet, while she rocks,
Can make the loveliest Argyle socks.
Though fond of Argyle socks am I,
To knit my own I'd never try.
I like 'tis more from love than thrift
To get them as a birthday gift.
'Tis so with sweaters and with mitts.
They should be things devotion knit.
From topmost rib through heel and toe,
That I am loved, my socks must show.
away with it, foes hope for other breaks in the old Communist array.

CHEAPER BREAD

It was announced recently in Rome that the Italian government had ordered a ten per cent reduction in the price of bread, which would bring the price in Rome down to about six and a half cents for a pound loaf. Across many minds must have flashed the thought that it would be nice to be able to buy bread for six or seven cents a loaf, on order of the government.

Fixing the price of a loaf of bread by government order may have some advantages, but a lot of other things go along with that practice. A government which can fix the price of bread and other foodstuffs can also fix the amount of wages a man can earn, the number of hours he must work in a week, and the kind of work he must do. It can regulate the kind of house he lives in, and many other things that determine the kind of life he lives. Through these things the government may give a man security, of a sort, and he may be able to buy a loaf of bread for six and a half cents.

Some Americans are voicing a desire for that kind of security, the security of government control over their lives. Would they really be able to live under such control, without suffocating? It might be better to let the baker and consumer arrive at their own price for the bread, though it be a few cents higher. It might also be well to remember that the Italian does not have the rest of the abundant and varied American dietary. We pay for it under private enterprise—but we get it.

PIRATE GOLD

If there be ghosts then the shades of some pirate crew must have gathered around a spot on the beach near Mantoloking, New Jersey, not long ago when two boys, helped by the father of one, dragged ashore a battered ancient treasure chest. They opened it to find that it did, indeed, contain treasure. There were eighteenth century English gold coins, gold buckles, cuff links and rings. Local authorities examined the find and pronounced it genuine. They recalled, then, stories that a pirate ship, the Thistle was lost in 1813 in nearby waters.

The discovery set off an enthusiastic search of the waters by amateur treasure hunters, who found a few more pieces of jewelry but no other chests. It also sets all manner of ideas to whirling through the head of anyone who has ever read tales of the old buccaneer days. Although it is a fact that pirates still ply their trade in some of the waters of the Orient, in our part of the world they belong to an era so long ago that sometimes it is hard to believe that pirates really existed, really sailed their ships into the little inlets of our tranquil coasts to mend the damage of battle, settle their arguments, and bury their treasures. These things did happen, and they are proved by such occasional discoveries as the Mantoloking chest.

MINING IN GREENLAND

Mining opportunities are opening up in Greenland. Lead ore in large quantities has been discovered there, according to the report of Dr. Laugh Koch, a Danish scientist. At one place a great amount of 84 per cent lead, in plain sight, has been found; the estimate is that a million tons may be available for mining there.

With rewards like this awaiting a mining company, it cannot be long before some organization will brave the rigors of the Arctic. Far north as it is, Greenland does enjoy a brief summer when grass and flowers bloom and the huge island justifies what would otherwise seem its totally inappropriate name. After all, even Greenland can hardly be colder than the windswept areas around Canada's Great Slave Lake, where the discovery of gold has brought into being the boom town of Yellowknife. And Northern Siberia, where the Russians have developed considerable settlements, is even bleaker.

The rewards of gold have led men to endure far greater hardships than Greenland might offer. If there is wealth to be had there, men will appear to claim it.

FOUR FAMOUS KELLEYS

How many families can show four generations of prominent public service? Florence Kelley, chief attorney for the New York City Legal Aid Society, was recently found to be handling 8,000 cases annually with a staff of eight, while the much larger district attorney's staff has no more than 16,000 cases. Florence Kelley comes naturally by her legal ability and her social service. Her father Nicholas Kelley, general counsel for the Chrysler Corporation, was assistant secretary of the Treasury under President Wilson, and is on the board of many philanthropic organizations, besides being president of the National Civil Service Reform League.

Her grandmother, the members of the Kelley family maintain, was the really great figure of the four generations. Mrs. Florence Kelley (after a divorce she resumed her maiden name, and passed it on to her children) was on the board of Hull House, Chicago's famous settlement, almost from its foundation. She was the first factory inspector of Illinois. She helped start the Henry Street Settlement in New York City, and was long secretary of the National Consumer League. She was a lifelong battler for woman suffrage and the right of women to serve on juries. She died in 1932.

The first Florence Kelley's father was William D. Kelley, for 30 years a congressman from Pennsylvania and the chief leader of the protectionist forces in Congress. He won the nickname "Pigiron Kelley" from his devotion to a high tariff on iron and steel. The high tariff cause occupied almost the whole of his attention and vision; he might have been startled at the way in which his descendants have broadened out. An old song runs, "Has anybody here seen Kelley?" The United States has seen four generations of this branch of the Kelley family, and greatly to its advantage.

GIVING UP SYMBOLS

The proposal that the United States return to Mexico the flags, standards, colors and emblems captured in the Mexican War has been made by Senator Tom Connally of Texas. This would be not only a magnificent gesture, but also a positive act of enlightened realism in international relations.

The captured banner of war, in after years, are reminders of the bitterness and passions of war. It would be far better, in these days, to give up the symbols of victory in war and collect in their stead symbols of peaceful friendship.

USE FOR MT. MCKINNEY

Mt. McKinley, the highest and most inaccessible peak in American territory, may have a scientific future. It is being considered, the National Geographic Society reports, as the site of a permanent station for cosmic ray research, conducted best in rarified altitudes.

When high peaks become useful for undertakings like this, there appears more real point in the ever-renewed attempt to scale the world's highest mountain, the Himalayas' Mt. Everest, the tip of which has not yet been reached.

FROM PARIS AGAIN

Some observers in the mysterious world of feminine fashions report that the influence of Paris is definitely seen again in fashion centers of America. When the Paris clothing industry was shut down and cut off from America in the war, American designers grew and prospered, and it was declared that Paris would never again be the fashion capital of the world. Paris designers, did not agree, and are bent on returning to the day when the important thing about a stunning gown was that it came from Paris.

STEEL IN NEW ENGLAND

Will there be steel mills in New England? Now that rich ore deposits have been found in Labrador, at a time when stories are common of the approaching exhaustion of the Mesabi iron range in Minnesota, steel companies are said to be considering the establishment of mills along the Atlantic coast, all the way from Norfolk, Va., to Canada.

Steel mills in New England would be something really new. After that anything might be expected, such as the growing of cotton in Pennsylvania, or a silk industry springing up in Kansas. These suggestions, too, may be less fantastic than they seem today.

BROADWAY....

by Mark Barnes

NEW YORK—Other than the pleasurable domestic side of life, this husband and wife business Broadway frequently proves that it is just as much to be recommended on the business and artistic facets. There are scores of husband-and-wife teams in the theatre who are very happy in their private lives. And who are very profitably and mutually helpful in their professional lives.

There are some incongruities in comparing wife (professionally) with husband (domestic), or wife (domestic) with husband (professionally). For instance, Lynn Fontanne is a brilliant actress but her husband, Alfred Lunt, is the cook in their home. Perhaps Miss Fontanne knows how to cook flapjacks (an apt menu because they live in the Wisconsin woods when away from their Broadway stints). But for really fine specimens of splendorous delight you must get Chef Lunt, the best manipulator of a barbecue grill I have ever encountered. So there is no reason why Miss Fontanne should bother at all going about the kitchen range.

Ray Bolger is a wonderful dancer and comedian in "Where's Charley?" but one of the smartest women I have ever met in the theatre is his wife, Gwen Rickard. Mrs. Bolger is a University of California journalism graduate and therefore knows what to tell newspapermen about her dancing husband, who is from Boston. But that she knows much more than this is evidenced by the fact that she is also co-producer of "Where's Charley?" and therefore is her husband's boss. If Ray doesn't come tripping out in his "Once in Love with Amy" number with his customary elan, then his better half, as co-producer, can trim down his salary check.

Bolger, the ever-triumphant husband, says that after he and Miss Rickard were married they decided that one career in a family was enough. So he contained being dancer-comedian star and she continued being stage producer and boss. That doesn't explain the situation very clearly, but the way Mrs. Bolger explained it to me, well, it sounded very logical and who am I to give a charming lady an argument on a mere few details?

There is also the husband and wife team of Lawrence Langner and Armina Marshall. When they were first married Miss Marshall was a very talented actress, and Mr. Langner a very successful patent lawyer. They were married and forthwith became a partnership in theatrical production and directing. Frankly, I wouldn't say who is the winner in this domestic partnership. All I know is that before they were married it was Mrs. Langner who had a career in the theatre. Mr. Langner was only an attorney.

Young People Of Eureka Methodist Church Organized

The young people of the Eureka Methodist church Sunday night organized their youth program. Officers elected were: Alene Castle, president; Audra Lyton Hicks, vice president; Kenneth Sikeen, secretary; Rosea Lee Pritchett, community service; Myrtle Watson, song leader; Earl Bonner, recreation. The next meeting will be held October 23.

Homecoming Game With Hillsboro Is Changed; Miss DeGeorge to be Queen

The annual homecoming game between Hillsboro Junior College and Navarro Junior College football eleven will be played at Tule Field, Friday night, October 21, instead of Saturday night, Oct. 22, Ray L. Waller, president, announced Tuesday. Corsicana High School authorities sanctioned the use of the field on Friday night since Corsicana High is idle that week-end. Miss Mary Frances De George of Corsicana, vice president of the college student council, football sweetheart of 1949, will be presented as the queen of the homecoming celebrations at the football game, the college president revealed. A reception for former students will be held at 4 p. m. at the college, October 21. A dance will be held at the college following the conference game between the Indians of Hillsboro and the Bulldogs of Navarro.

Marshal Field Is Designated

AUSTIN, Oct. 13. (AP)—The area surrounding the McDonald Well No. 1, Bastrop county, has been formally designated as the Marshal Field. The railroad commission granted a discovery allowance of 40 barrels a day and new field designation. The commission held up designation of a spacing pattern for the new field until additional wells have been drilled. The well, drilled by Jesse I. White of Austin, was brought in Aug. 5. It is in the Martha Barker survey, two and one-half miles northeast of Cedar Creek in Bastrop county, more than three miles from the nearest production.

Wheelock Cattle Winners At Fair

Wheelock Hereford Farms of Corsicana took three second place ribbons in the Hereford show Tuesday at the State Fair of Texas, according to Associated Press dispatches. In the senior bull calf division, calved between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31, 1948, Wheelock's Publican Domino 185th took second place; in the two-year-old heifer class, Miss Publican Domino 84th took second; and in the senior heifer class, Miss Publican Domino 185th took second place. The well was brought in at 1-872-81 feet in the Dale lime.

"The Heiress," First Of Three Stage Shows Scheduled Here, Well Received

By DON MORRISSEY
Daily Sun Staff

A bit melodramatic, stage in parts, but all in all, good entertainment was provided by "The Heiress" at the High School auditorium Wednesday night. The play was the first of three, sponsored by the Corsicana Rotary club, which will be presented on the local stage.

The play was more psychological than entertaining, but the more than 300 persons who attended were high in their praise at the final curtain call and as they left the auditorium.

This was the first professional live-action, stage show presented in Corsicana in many years, and to many it appeared different from other forms of entertainment they had seen. However, the audience was responsive and apparently enjoyed the play as the applause at each curtain was loud and long.

Perhaps the theater goers would have enjoyed a comedy more than the drama presented Wednesday night. Original plans called for the showing of "Fair and Warner" on opening night. This comedy will be seen here Feb. 2.

The small, five-person cast did a remarkable job with the heavy play they had to handle. The setting was in 1850, an era little remembered by most of the audience.

Built around a wealthy, young, unloved daughter and her widowed father, the play started slowly but picked up soon after the opening curtain.

Elizabeth Lawrence, playing the part of the daughter, turned in a superb performance and characterized her part to perfection.

Herbert Voland, as the tyrannical father, a doctor, portrayed the idiosyncrasies of the selfish but well-meaning father of the era. His doubts and puritan convictions of the intentions of his would-be son-in-law further frustrated his daughter, and his intent of disinheriting her led to her being jilted by her suitor.

Jilted, when her fortune-seeking lover found she wouldn't inherit her father's fortune, Miss Lawrence changed from a bewildered young lady into a self-sustaining woman.

After her father's death and her legacy, the jilted lover returns. Following a heavy persuasion scene, the jilted one agrees to marry the fortune hunter. However, she calmly walks out of the room, as her wain demands admittance, convinced she has evened the score by jilting the jilter.

Edmund Jordan, the lover, had a difficult and sticky part. He convinced no one but the daughter that his intent included more than his fortune involve. He characterized his part to the C in the cad he was.

Excellent supporting parts were played by Justin Johnston, a widowed sister of the hard-hearted doctor father, and by Claire Edwards, a married sister. The latter, a seasoned actress, turned in a top performance.

The scenery and furniture were that of a traveling company, but served their purpose well.

The acoustic powers of the High School auditorium, not designed for the legitimate stage, but more for a band concert, caused many of the players' lines to be lost. However, the entire cast spoke forcefully and the

New Bill Hikes National Guard Pay Schedules

The new army pay boost bill, signed into law by President Truman Wednesday, will increase considerably the sums paid to National Guardsmen. Capt. J. C. Gaston of the 138th field artillery's headquarters battery in Corsicana said Thursday.

For under four months' service, recruits are paid $2.50 a drill; for over four months' service and until completion of two years, pay is $2.67 a drill; for recruits, Gaston said, in quoting a pay table published in the Army Times.

Privates start at $2.75 a drill, winning 25 cents a drill increase for every two years of service, up until 10 years. However, pay increases come with every promotion.

Other starting pay per drill for Guardsmen follow (under two years service; increases come every two years thereafter):

Private, first class—$3.19.
Corporal—$3.82.
Sergeant—$4.66.

Sergeant, first class—$5.64.
Master Sergeant—$7.13.
Second Lieutenant—$7.31.
First Lieutenant—$8.31.
Captain—$10.45.

Increases may be illustrated by the fact that a sergeant with two years service will receive $5.83 per drill.

Warrant officers' pay is almost the same as the first three officers' grades during the first six years of service, the table disclosed, with greater increases for the commissioned officers after six years.

most of their words covered the auditorium.

Voland, as Dr. Austin Sloper, was difficult to understand at times when he turned away from the audience.

The Rotary club is to be commended for its part in bringing this and the other plays to Corsicana. Its program is bringing top-rate performances, plays that have had long runs in New York and Chicago, to an audience which otherwise might not have the chance to see the legitimate actors in action.

The Civic Drama Guild of New York will present two more stage shows before this season ends. Oct. 16, "Fair and Warner" will be staged, and "Peg O' My Heart" will be here, March 17.

Jack Sisco, president of the Rotary club, announced before the play, "Fair and Warner" performance, that season tickets for the two coming plays might be purchased for $5.

He also informed season ticket holders they could purchase individual play tickets for either of the coming shows if they wished to bring a guest.

Chamber Directors Hear Suggestion To Stimulate County Dairy Program

At the meeting of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce directors today, J. R. Hart of the dairy committee submitted a report on a plan to stimulate an interest in an increased dairy program in Navarro county. He suggested five or six calves be furnished by the C. of C., local business and service clubs and these be given qualified members of 4-H and FFA clubs.

He added that an agreement would be entered into by the donor, the calf owner and his father whereby the new owner would care for the calf and then give the first heifer back to the sponsor. Thus creating a revolving group to continue the dairy program.

Also discussed was a proposed trip to visit Trimmier, reservoir and flood control programs in the Fort Worth area. The Howard Creek dam is to be dedicated Oct. 27. The soil conservation committee was authorized to plan a trip for that day, preferably by bus. A county-wide representation will be sought and will include representatives from Waxahachie and Ennis.

John F. Adams of the highway committee reported on plans for widening Highway 75 from the underpass to the south city limits. He said the state was prepared to pave the highway if the property owners would pay for the curb and gutter. The latter will cost $12.50 per linear foot.

He moved the C. of C. endorse the program and urge the city to proceed with the widening program.

Adams also mentioned that "Oil Progress Week" starts Sunday and presented a motion that the C. of C. recognize the week and urge active participation because of what the petroleum industry has done for Corsicana.

"Corsicana," he said, "was the site of the first oil well and first refinery west of the Mississippi. We should go all out in the observation of this week. Service clubs are planning special programs on the oil industry during the week."

The East Texas Chamber of Commerce district meet at Mexia Oct. 18 was mentioned and Manager Herman Brown urged the attendance of all who could make it.

In reporting on the Corsicana Fair and Community Chest, Brown said a complete report on the fair would be ready when the books are closed. The annual meeting of the Community Chest will be held at the C. of C. office at 10 a. m. Friday, he added.

Brown introduced a discussion on the empty store buildings in the city in an effort to see what the C. and C. could do about them. The only suggestion offered was that the owners be urged to reduce the rents.

Brown also reported the C. of C. still had five float frames which they hoped to sell local concerns.

The speeding and traffic problem of Fifteenth street and West Second avenue was discussed. A lowering of the speed limit to 20 miles per hour and rigid enforcement was suggested.

Mayor Hubert T. Braselton said the city was considering the possibility of a traffic light at Fifteenth and West Fifth avenue.

"The state has refused us permission, so far, to erect a light," he added.

H. M. Montgomery, president, reported on the remodeling of the C. of C. office and said the repairs cost $806.72.

Brown was presented a certificate from the Southwestern Chamber of Commerce Institute for completing its courses in C. of C. subjects.

Montgomery said all committees would be asked for a report at the next meeting. He also suggested members be considering a slate of officers to be elected soon.

The financial report shows the C. of C. had $1,081.12 on hand as of Sept. 30.

The board of directors instructed Brown to work out a plan to collect delinquent dues from members.

Blooming Grove, Kerens Tussle To Take Spotlight

The three-way deadlock for first place in District 20-B of the Intercollegiate League grid race will narrow down to a two-way affair with the conference contests on tap this week.

Specifically, the Kerens-Blooming Grove contest will eliminate one of the top teams.

At present, it is a three-way affair between the Bobcats, Lions and the State Home Lads.

The Kerens-Blooming Grove fracas will take the spotlight as the most important game in the circuit Friday, since there is so much hanging on the outcome. The game will be played at Kerens on Friday night.

The Bobcats are undefeated in two games. They tripped Canton 18-7 in a non-conference encounter, then moved into the conference race last week in an impressive manner, blanking Dawson by a 31-0 count. Byron O. Currin is in his first year as coach of the Kerens outfit, and indications are that the crop will be in the thick of the district fight.

Blooming Grove, sporting its strongest team in years, has run rough-shod over two conference opponents. The Lions defeated Hubbard, 31-0, and then trampled Italy, 37-0, and are expected to give Kerens plenty of trouble in Friday night's game.

The State Home Lads, who have amassed a total of 136 points in three games, journey to Italy Friday, and should have an easy time with the Gladiators. The Green and White looked most impressive last week end in smashing a good Frost team, 46-7.

Hubbard has an open date this week.

Dawson is host to Mildred this week, and the Bulldogs rule as slight favorites to turn in their first conference victory of the season.

In the remaining 20-B game of the week, Coolidge, winless against the competition in this district, comes to Frost. The Polar Bears are top-heavy favorites to win this one.

Last Week's Results.
State Home 46, Frost 7; Kerens 31, Dawson 0; Blooming Grove 37, Mildred 7.

Will Enter Grass Judging Contest

Five Navarro county youths will enter the state-wide grass judging contest October 10 at the Dallas fair. Assistant County Agent Curtis Henderson announced Tuesday.

The boys are Boyce Ross, Powell, John Barnes, Barry, Melvin Lowe, Powell, and Dickie Watson, Barry.

All but Watson composed the top grass judging team at the county fair here recently.

The state contest is sponsored by the Soil Conservation Service, Henderson said.

First Class Trip To Europe Given Hollywood Stars

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13.—(P)—Want a first-class, prepaid vacation in Europe, staying at the best spas and hotels?

Watch, kid. And it's available to you at no cost and little obligation—provided you're a film star. Take Joseph Cotten, I. the past year or so, he has made three pictures in Europe—in London, Vienna and Italy.

"This is the only way I could afford to take a European trip first-class," Cotten says, with perhaps unwarranted modesty about his money status.

Joseph doesn't cotton (no joke) to this talk about the rigors of making pictures in ill-nourished, ill-equipped Europe.

"Making pictures on location in Europe is exactly the same as making them on location at Lake Tahoe," he told me. "You undergo what people think are indignities in either place; they always say, 'this couldn't happen' in Hollywood."

Whether at Lake Como or Lake Tahoe, Cotten remarked, there's always a wind machine to make the female star's hair blow.

"Then the sound man says it's making too much noise. So they try a wind tunnel affair, but that's too noisy, too. So someone gets the idea of waving a piece of board to make the girl's hair blow. It happens every time."

Cotten didn't even grouse about England, where he spent nine austere months. "You soon find what you put in your stomach is not too important," he remarked.

His only complaint is what English cooks do to food. "How can they live just 20 miles from France, where you find the greatest cooks in the world, and know so little about good cooking?" he wondered.

Cotten has his own solution to England's fuel saving problem and he offers it herewith to Sir Stafford Cripps:

Have the British cook their vegetables one day instead of two.

"It's revolutionary. It goes snap, rap, thud, knock, slam, bang, rumble, whirl, and then comes chimes."

THOMAS L. THOMAS HEADLINES CIVIC MUSIC ATTRACTIONS IN CORSICANA FOR THIS SEASON

By MRS. LYNNE WORTHAM
Sun Section Editor

Thomas L. Thomas, well-known radio and concert baritone, will inaugurate Corsicana's ninth annual Civic Music Series on Thursday evening, October 20th, at 8:15 o'clock at Corsicana High School, according to announcement by W. P. McCammon, president of the sponsoring organization. Other artists who will appear as Civic Music attractions are Benno Rabinof, violinist, and Sylvia Rabinof, pianist, November 10th; Seymour Lipkin, pianist, January 12th, and Marion Bell, February 25th.

Thomas L. Thomas has appeared as soloist with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony, Chicago Symphony, Detroit, Indianapolis and Toronto Symphony Orchestras. He has been radio guest artist with the Flaminio, Cresta Blanca, Opry House, Waltz Time and Chicago Theater of the Air. These and many other radio appearances have been made in addition to his outstanding career as a concert artist. After the Civic Music series, he will tour, he received such glowing press notices as the following: "One of the most worthwhile of our baritones" his voice is a persuasive medium of expression; sensitively perceived interpretation; "It is unusual for a singer to be a superior musician and at the same time a first rate performer."

Another reviewer declared that "his glorious voice shone like burnished gold—the lyrics and operatic arias in Italian, German and French were polished offerings in song, beautiful beyond description. A sensational baritone, a great artist."

Foremost Violinist.

The Rabinofs, Benno and Sylvia, are outstanding artists and have also received enthusiastic press notices.

Neil Straus in the New York Times said of Benno Rabinof: "He proved himself one of the most accomplished American violinists now before the public. He displayed technical accomplishments of high order. His tone was pure and firm control and always of singing quality."

Under the headline, "Concert That Delighted," the Tucson Republic said: "The magnificent talents of the violinist, Rabinof, and his wife, who is equally accomplished, combined to create a unity which is seldom heard on the concert stage."

After singing the praises of Rabinof, the Bellingham (Washington) Herald said: "The audience was charmed with Mrs. Rabinof's husband's entire concert without score and in complete harmony, but pleased everyone with her personality and pianistic ability."

Seymour Lipkin, although only 21, already has a remarkable career behind him. He entered the Curtis Institute at eleven; there he studied piano with Rudolf Serkin. In the course of developing the musical nature, he studied conducting with Serge Koussevitzky at the Berkshire Music Center, and technical conductor for George Szell of the Cleveland Orchestra. During the period, he conducted several brilliant performances in addition to appearing as piano soloist with the orchestra of the New York Philharmonic.

Mr. Lipkin was an entrant in the nation-wide piano contest, sponsored by the Rachmaninoff Fund, in memory of the great pianist-composer, which was announced as competition against the highest standards rather than one among performers. Thus, when Mr. Lipkin was adjudged winner of the musical jackpot of recent years. This triumph proved to be a major step in one of the most brilliant of musical careers of our time.

After receiving the Rachmaninoff Award, the New York Post said of Lipkin: "The decision did not come as a surprise to the audience, judging by the enthusiasm that followed Mr. Lipkin's playing. Mrs. Lipkin's performance was phenomenal, mature and in range and tone color and dynamics, in steel-fingered accuracy and rhythmic surety it was a performance of absolutely finest quality. Mr. Lipkin has the reputation of a musical prodigy, and his place in the forefront of young American pianists seems assured."

Marion Bell, soprano, has been cast in numerous light opera roles and was a recent member of the "Brigadoon" company on Broadway.

Big news of the New York 1949-49 concert season was the Town Hall debut of Marion Bell, lovely singing star of the Broadway musical. All New York knew about the glorious Bell voice, the Bell beauty, and Bell charm and acting ability that had won Miss Bell five major awards. But though "Brigadoon" had established a new high standard of seriousness and artistic integrity for Broadway musicals, it was still a musical and it takes an entirely different order of talent altogether to impress seasoned concert audiences.

But headlines in the New York Times the day after her debut recital, told the story. SOLANGE WOODWARD HAD THE LEADING ROLE WITH "BRIGADOON" MAKES A HIT WITH LARGE AUDIENCE

—beneath which the Times critic wrote: "Marion Bell, soprano, sang the leading role of Fiona in 'Brigadoon' last season with marked success, was heard in her first New York recital last night at Town Hall. In addition to her experience in the opera, the young lady had appeared with the young Francisco Opera Company, the St. Louis Municipal Opera and the Opéra National in Mexico City. As a consequence, she has brought an expert showmanship to her work which captivated the large and highly responsive audience."

The seriousness of Miss Bell's intentions was reflected in her forings, in six languages she had chosen for presentation. Handsome to the eye, Miss Bell delivered these varied selections with enraptured ease and an ability to project a song in a way to hold the attention not commonly encountered among newcomers in the concert stage."

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The stock market went higher today in one of the biggest sessions of the year.

Volume was at the rate of 1,000,000 shares for the entire day. The buying surge started with the opening bell. Within a short time however, the pace slackened but continued at a high level.

Profit taking cut down a great number of the best advances and the market fell back from its peak. Some of the declines ran more than a point, but the majority of the losses among the leaders were in fractions.

Buying enthusiasm diminished after John L. Lewis proposed adding 30 to 35 cents to each ton of coal as his price for settling the coal strike.

The market is currently at the highest average level of the year, and each upward move uncovers sales to cash in on the advance.

On the higher side were Shell Oil, Lion Oil, Skelly Oil, Goodrich, Hillman Hotels, American Can, Allied Chemical, Homestake Mining, Anaconda Copper and Johnsonville.

Lower were Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Consolidated Natural Gas, Dow Chemical, American Woolen, U. S. Gypsum, Paramount (old), American Airlines and Santa Fe.

Corsicana Cubs Crush Hillsboro Crew By 40-0 Count On Tiger Field Tuesday

The rampaging Corsicana Cubs turned in a top-heavy 40-0 victory over the Hillsboro B team on Tiger Field Tuesday night in a game that never saw the Corsicana goal line threatened. The Cub attack, led by Kenneth Stegal and Jack Hobbs, moved with precision and with more and more power as the game got older, and their lead was never in danger. Coach Otis Pederson was expecting a harder game than his crew got. He was of the opinion that several of the key Hillsboro B stringers were held off the squad for possible use with the A team in the Friday night battle with the Tigers. Stegal, shifty Cub seatback, romped to three touchdowns, and Jack Hobbs garnered the same amount of tumbles, with no one else crossing the goal line. Bob Russell turned in a neat record in conversion placements, converting four out of the six tries. For the most part, the Cubs scored all but one of their touchdowns as a result of sustained drives deep into Eaglet territory. The main exception was Hobbs' 55 yard run for a TD on a screen pass play. The Cubs led at halftime by a margin of 13-0. Fullback Jerry Calloway did a fine job at fullback for the Cubs, both at backing up the line, and on hard-hitting plunges into the line on offense. In the Cub line the whole crew looked good. Standout honors might go to David Corley, Charles Slack, Harvey McNell, Henry Newman and Everett Holly. The Cubs will go to Hillsboro next week for a return game with the Eaglets, Coach Pederson said.

Round Prairie Store Is Looted

Prying open a back door, burglars looted the R. D. Massey grocery store at Round Prairie Tuesday night, fleeing with at least $35, a large quantity of meat and clothing. The burglars carried off the cash register, which contained $35 in silver, Sheriff David Castles reported. Castles and Deputies R. E. Jones and Dick Salter investigated the crime early Wednesday. Eighteen pairs of trousers and 18 shirts, all of khaki material, about ten pounds of cheese and a quantity of various meats were taken, Sheriff Castles said. "The store is located on highway 309."

WHY A FARM BUREAU MEMBER?

1. SO THAT your interest as a farmer can be protected and promoted in legislative affairs.
2. SO THAT you can help stabilize farm prices in line with the prices of other commodities.
3. SO THAT farmers can get out of the mud by enactment of the Texas Farm Bureau Rural Road Program.
4. SO THAT farmers can have available rural electric telephones and expanded REA.
5. SO THAT farmers can have organized group action to meet any crisis, as they did on the grain emergency.
6. SO THAT farmers can be the major voice in establishing the Farm Program instead of other non-farm organizations or groups.
7. SO THAT farmers can have adequate marketing, research and educational facilities.

In 1948 Farm Bureau had over 1,300,000 Members. EACH NEW MEMBER WILL MAKE IT STRONGER.

A Few Accomplishments Of Farm Bureau in 1949—

1. Maintains legislative directors in Austin and Washington.
2. Sought enactment of Farm Bureau Rural Road Program to get farmers out of mud. Over 3,000 farmers attended legislative hearing in Austin.
3. Active in securing 3-point grain storage program. Saved Texas grain producers over $45,000,000.
4. Helped secure passage of legislation for Rural Housing giving farmers similar loan privileges as city people.
5. Active for Rural Telephone Bill to give farmers electric telephone service.
6. Active in attending all hearings in Washington on Farm Program, allotments, etc. Farm Bureau has had a part in every major piece of farm legislation since 1920.

NAVARRO COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Importance Of Hard-Surface Roads Stressed By Speaker At Rotary Club

Increased agricultural production, which in turn sets the pace for business of a city like Corsicana, is being held down by lack of good farm-to-market roads, charged George A. Logan, Jr., agricultural manager of the Waco Chamber of Commerce, in a talk to Corsicana Rotarians today. Logan said, "according to the 1945 census, two-thirds of the farms in Navarro county were at least a half mile off hard-surface roads. You can't expect the farmer to increase and enlarge his farm production when he can get to town only a few days of the month." The speaker talked on what the city man can do to aid the farmer and suggested the building of more hard-surfaced roads was a good place to start.

The dairy industry should be pushed in this area he said, but it can't be until the farmer knows he can get to town with his milk every day. Logan predicted 20 to 30 percent of the cotton acreage is Navarro county would be retired by law next year, and he suggested this land be put to use for dairy purposes. Another farm industry that should be promoted, he added is poultry. "This industry also demands good transportation facilities," he said. The speaker listed the following suggestions city people can do to help the farmer increase and vary his production: Focus attention on what the farm people are doing; promote interest in corn crops; suggest methods for improving the cotton crop; urge the production of more fruits and vegetables; step up the tempo of city-held livestock auctions; let the former farmers who now live in the city work out the farmer's problems; give the farm people an insight into what other farmers have made successes of; promote tours to the experimental farm station at Temple; develop farm youth organizations and soil conservation programs. "When the farmer has money, business gets its share," he concluded. Peter Andrews, Stamford, was a visiting Rotarian. Guests included Liston Tatum, Jr., Bennie Hardy and Orville Langston, all of Corsicana, and Jack Cronin, Palestine. Harman Brown was program chairman.
